

Redfield Students Dress up for Homecoming Week

by Hailey Wacholz, sophomore

Students 7-12 kick off homecoming with annual dress-up days. On Monday, students could be seen in various colors for neon/crazy day, where everyone wore the brightest clothes they own. On Tuesday, every grade had their own class color; seniors: white, juniors: black, sophomores: blue, freshman; pink, eighth grade: orange, seventh grade: green. Thursday was gangster day where there was mix of baggy clothes and fur coats depending on how students perceived “gangster.” Friday, of course, was school spirit day for all grades to support the football team.

“I liked neon day, mainly because it was really cool to see people with crazy outfits and cool colors that the people who participated wore,” sophomore Chris Shine said.

“I liked gangster day, because it really brought out how people dress outside of school,” stated sophomore Koby Corkins.

Roni Levtzow and Ashlyn O'Daniel flex and show off their tattoos.
